01 ABOUT

A specialist in programme delivery and team leadership with over 17 years leading high-stakes digital transformation. I've worked across Financial Services, Healthcare, Sport, Energy, Publishing and AI, in consultancies, agencies and product houses always tackling the most complex problems.

I founded and ran a digital consultancy for five years before moving into senior delivery roles, which means I understand commercial reality as well as craft. I have also built and shipped my own SaaS products and AI agents and I bring that into client work, designing agents and automated workflows that take the grind out of programme operations. I'm a certified Scrum Master and certified Leader Who Coaches, mentored by a highly regarded PMI consultant.

What sets me apart is my ability to restore trust in struggling programmes, bring structure to chaos, and grow the people around me. I have been promoted from every permanent role I've held.
